Brothers George and Leslie Dean married Doris and Vera Howe within 5 years of each other. In the belief that they were related, I have traced the ancestry of both spouses back 4 and 3 generations respectively, terminating in Sheffield with Doris' ancestor George being born about 1801, and Vera's ancestor Frederick born about 1803. Initial research indicates that Frederick may be the son of George (a cutler) and Ann Howe. More extensive research has been done around George (b.1801) but there are several possible matches (including the son of a George and Ann baptised in 1796).
